

SINGAPOUR INTRODUCTION

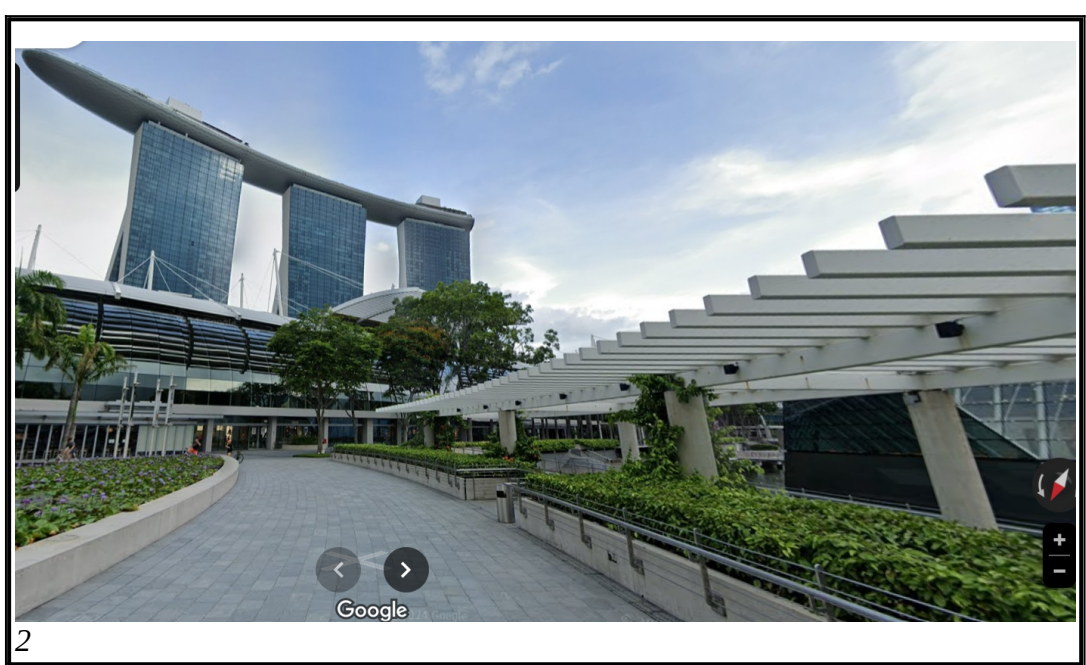

Classic exercise : Alone on your notebook, using the map and the different documents, find precise elements using appropriate vocabulary to prove that Singapore is a highly globalized city-state. Find three types of information: flows, activities, and finally, urban organization (how the city is structured).

"Geoguesser" exercise : In groups, find the most precise possible location of the eight images taken from Google Street View on the map. Use Google to gather information and the clues in each image. On picardhg.fr, you can find the PDF document in color. The first team to accurately locate all eight images wins!
